

THE DEALER

The Dealer - short film

Tony's first venture into film directing was to make a 22 minute short film adaptation of his novel "The Dealer", which starred Craig Charles, John Thomson, Ricky Grover, Dave Courtney and Pat Murray (better known for his character Mickey Pearce in Only Fools and Horses). Shot on HD, the film was hailed a huge success and received a five minute standing ovation at the premiere showing at the Café de Paris, Leicester Square, London.
